Community of Excellence

Dear Neighbors,

Our district vision is to be a Community of Excellence. Community is the context for all of our work. Excellence is the standard that we set for ourselves.

Partnerships are critical to both elements of this vision. In working with others, we recognize the value of community and build upon it. In working with others, we achieve at levels not attainable when we work by ourselves. Partnerships are critical to our vision to be a Community of Excellence.

The most important partnership we have as a district is between our schools and the families with whom we share the charge of educating our children. Students attend school for nearly 1,100 hours out of a total of 8,760 hours a year. Successful learning is impacted by what happens in a child’s life all day every day. Schools and families working together in partnership make student success possible.

Royal Oak Schools is proud to partner not only with families, but also other educational entities and community organizations.

We are active partners with Oakland Schools where we have been leaders in sharing services across district boundaries, particularly in the area of technology. Together with Oakland Schools we offer an all virtual learning experience in grades K-8 and provide expanded career focused pathways for high school students. We also partner with Oakland Schools and Oakland Community College to offer dual enrollment and early college opportunities. With the Oakland Livingston Human Services Agency, we make Head Start programs available in Royal Oak. One of our most significant educational partnerships is with Shrine Schools, with whom we share teachers and students through a shared time services agreement.

For us, these agreements are all about Royal Oak and doing everything we can to support the learning of all students in our community.

Royal Oak Schools is also pleased to partner with the City of Royal Oak. City recreation programs use designated school sites at no charge. Our schools act as precinct voting sites. Together our city and school system share a unique fiber network, which is a public-private partnership. We also work together on cultural events that enhance life for all residents, such as the Royal Oak Celebration of the Arts.

I cannot begin to name or describe all the powerful partnerships we share with the many non-profit organizations, community groups, social organizations and civic clubs that make Royal Oak such a special place to live and work. Our schools are incredibly grateful for the support provided by so many in our community through partnerships that make a profound difference in the lives of our students.

We are all better and stronger when we share resources and relationships through partnerships that enhance our community.

With gratitude,

Royal Oak High School to Host Open House & Personal Project Celebration

Royal Oak High School (ROHS) will host its Annual Open House on Wednesday, April 13, 2016 from 6:00-8:00 p.m. The event will highlight a variety of opportunities for incoming students, while showcasing programs in academics, visual and performing arts, as well as the athletic program.

In addition, the event will feature the 10th grade Personal Project Celebration. As part of the International Baccalaureate Middle Years Programme (MYP), ROHS 10th graders complete the Personal Project, which is the culmination of the MYP experience for students. Personal Project work began in September with 10th grade students working with supervising teachers and mentors to plan and design a project of their own choice that was created over the winter months. Most projects required an average of 25 hours of work and research to complete. During the course of the projects, students wrote process journals and reflections, communicated with teacher supervisors, and wrote or created audio/video reports on their completed projects.

These projects will be displayed at the Open House and will also be adjudicated by a team of ROHS teachers. Students will receive recognition at graduation and on their transcripts for their projects.

Royal Oak Students Excel on M-STEP

Royal Oak students scored well above state and county averages on the Spring 2015 administration of the state’s M-STEP test. The M-STEP replaced the MEAP test in the 2014-2015 school year and is administered in grades 3-8 and grade 11 in four subject areas: English Language Arts, Math, Science and Social Studies.

All Royal Oak M-STEP aggregate scores by subject area are above both county and state averages. Seventeen of the 20 scores as reported by grade and content area are at or above the corresponding scores reported for Oakland County as a whole, one of our state’s strongest counties for student learning.

In two areas, Royal Oak Schools are among the top performing districts in our county: scores for 11th grade and overall scores for students defined as economically disadvantaged. Eleventh grade scores for Royal Oak Schools place the district among the top four performing districts in Oakland County; students classified as economically disadvantaged in Royal Oak also perform among the top four in our county.

Commenting on the scores, Shawn Lewis-Lakin, Superintendent of Schools, said, “These scores represent one set of data among many that we use to analyze student learning. Whether the results our students achieve on an assessment are good depends not on the scores achieved, but on how we use the scores to improve learning for all of our students. We will examine all of the M-STEP data as we seek continuous improvement towards the excellence standard we set for ourselves.”

“Looking at the scores,” said Lewis-Lakin, “I am pleased at what they indicate regarding the positive impact our work makes over time, as evidenced by the strength of our grade 11 scores. The aggregate scores for students defined by federal standards as being economically disadvantaged are an indicator of the impact of our schools when the variable of the economic background of the students is controlled. That the scores for this subgroup are so strong is very encouraging. Our students, our teachers – indeed, our entire community – are working hard and achieving at a level that should make us all proud.”

The MI-School Data link, available on the district website, www.royaloakschools.org, provides access to complete M-STEP data.

Royal Oak Schools Announces Plans for New Adult Transition Program

Program to focus on development and application of functional life and employment skills in the Royal Oak Community

Royal Oak Schools announced plans for a new Adult Transition Program which will expand special education programming to include services for eligible Royal Oak students 18 to 26 years of age. The program will support students with disabilities in the development of the skills necessary to transition from school to adulthood. With a specific emphasis on the development of functional skills, the program will provide students with the support in applying skills learned in the program to develop relationships within the Royal Oak community.

As the students transition from school to the “real world”, they will learn functional skills such as developing and using a shopping list, maintaining a home environment and managing finances, and accessing recreation. Additionally, students will develop work skills such as appropriate dress, accessing transportation, specific work skills, collaboration, self-advocacy and navigating a work environment. The ultimate goal of the program is to develop the skills necessary to allow the student to live and work as independently as possible upon exiting the program.

The Adult Transition Program will be housed in a wing of the Churchill Community Education Center with its own designated entrance. Instead of a typical classroom setup, the program will create work and home environments for student learning. Students will be supported in accessing and participating in their home community through recreation, social and volunteer opportunities.

Previously, Royal Oak Schools resident students who required this level of programming attended programs outside of the district. Students currently attending programs outside of Royal Oak Schools and those who will transition into the program for the 2016-2017 school year will be invited to attend an information session with their parent/guardian to learn more about the program and answer their questions. Eligibility for the program is the decision of the student’s Individual Educational Planning Team (IEPT); placement in the program will be handled on a case by case basis.

“The work we are doing on this program is consistent with our vision as a district to be A Community of Excellence,” said Shawn Lewis-Lakin, Superintendent of Schools. “As a district, and a community, we recognize the critical importance of providing the best possible educational experiences for all students in Royal Oak.”

The district is seeking the input of interested parents/guardians and community members as the program continues to develop. If you are interested in being part of the development of the Adult Transition Program in Royal Oak or if you have any questions about the program, please contact Jason Zewatsky, ASD Program Supervisor, at 248-435-8400 ext. 1269 or zewatskyj@royaloakschools.org.
Local school districts receive the majority of their operational funding from the State since the passage of Proposal A in 1994. The State distributes operating dollars to local school districts through a system based primarily on student counts. The revenue sources for these funds include:

- sales taxes
- a six mill levy on homestead property
- taxes on liquor and tobaccos sales
- real estate property transfer taxes, and lottery profits.

At the local level, Boards of Education are limited in their ability to ask local residents to provide funding to support their schools. Royal Oak can ask local residents to contribute some funding for operational costs. The amount that can be requested is limited through a formula under Proposal A. Currently, Royal Oak residents pay 2.63 mills of Hold Harmless millage.

Local districts can also ask the community to support their schools with funds dedicated to facility improvements. This can be accomplished through bonds (which result in debt levies) and through building site and sinking fund (sinking fund) millages. In Royal Oak, residents pay 3.75 mills for debt retirement (to pay off facility improvement bonds) and a 1.0 mill sinking fund.

As the chart to the right shows, Royal Oak is in the bottom quarter in terms of what local Oakland County homeowners pay in support of their community governed schools.

Detroit Red Wings Visit Upton Elementary

Detroit Red Wings Justin Abdelkader (left wing) and Danny DeKeyser (defense player) visited Upton Elementary where they introduced a new educational program from the NHL to Upton fourth and fifth grade students. The players were on hand for the unveiling of the Hockey Scholar, a new hockey-themed educational course designed to enable grade-school students to develop important science, technology, engineering and math (STEM) skills and understand the real world application of these disciplines.

The courses take students on an educational journey with a goal of winning the Stanley Cup. Students can guide their favorite NHL team through 12 learning modules designed to educate them and test their knowledge on STEM concepts covering data analysis, geometry, life science and physical science topics.

These subjects come to life through hockey simulations that include the dynamics of the ice surface, equipment design, athletic performance, and geometric and energy considerations to detail how the game is played.
