Dear Royal Oak Schools Community,

It has been a very busy start to 2018 as we have already moved into the second semester of the school year.

Late in January, we completed the final Community Forum Debrief meeting around the important work of diversity, inclusion and equity. Royal Oak Schools continues to partner with Dr. Jay Marks of Oakland Schools who led our continued discussions at the evening meeting. The group in attendance reviewed and prioritized recommendations previously offered by community members, parents and staff, and began to identify action plans based on those recommendations. I was able to share a few thoughts about the district’s strategic plan, which takes these prioritized recommendations into account. This included how the district embeds best practices into our K-12 curriculum, hiring practices, staff development and communication. Along with Dr. Marks, we will take the recommendations and work toward a Community Partnership group who will move our work forward.

January was also a time to recognize and honor the work of our school board members. Along with state and local organizations, we took time to highlight the elected community members who serve the needs of our students and families. Our board members strive to exhibit habits and characteristics that support our high achieving district. Those guiding traits include holding a vision of high expectations for student achievement, quality instruction, strong budgets, quality resources and facilities, and collaborating with parents, staff, community members and students around policies and best practices.

I am happy to share that the planning for the first phase of the Bond 2017 initiative continues. Phase I of the work includes the improvements and additions to Royal Oak High School’s athletic areas including a new plaza building, relocation of the tennis courts, improvements to the infrastructure, technology and expanded track. Phase II planning is underway for 2019-20 work at Oak Ridge, Keller and the learning spaces inside of the high school.

In the following pages I invite you to read about additional points of pride for the district, and plan for some special events that may be of interest to you. As always, please make sure to visit our district webpage www.royaloakschools.org to stay informed, and while there, sign up for our new e-magazine The District Dispatch (click subscribe to eNews at the top of the page) which just launched in January.

Sincerely,

Mary Beth Fitzpatrick, Superintendent of Schools
Inspired By the Community MLK Day Event?

Tips for keeping the service spirit strong

Royal Oak and Berkley celebrated the second annual MLK Day of Service earlier this year. More than 350 volunteers completed service projects for various local organizations at the event, but one goal of the event is to inspire residents, students and families to continue service throughout the year.

Local organizations always need your help! Here are some tips for how to get started:

Volunteer as a group
Getting together a group of people, like your family or a friend, can be a good way to make a difference. Working with others, who you know, could help you stay motivated and interested.

Decide how much time you can commit
Think about how much time you have to give. Some organizations require specialized training programs and commitments, while others allow you to volunteer without either. Keep this in mind when researching opportunities.

Consider your skills or the skills you’d like to have
Maybe you’re a musician who can share your talents at a nursing home, or maybe you’re good with your hands and would like to help spruce up a community space. Sharing something that comes naturally to you could be a good way to get involved.

You could also consider volunteer opportunities that stretch you. If you’d like to improve your writing skills, volunteering to work on a charity’s newsletter could help you. Or, if you work at a desk job and would like to be more active, look for an opportunity that will get you moving.

Find a cause
Choosing an organization that you care about, or maybe even one you have personal experience with will help you stay engaged.

Looking for a place to start? Royal Oak and Berkleypartnered with the following organizations for our service projects on MLK Day:
• Beaumont
• Cass Community Social Services
• Project Night Night
• The Judson Center
• The New Foster Care
• Yad Ezra Food Pantry
• Redford Brightmoor Initiative

Stepping Up at Royal Oak Schools

Moving from elementary to middle school and then middle to high school can be exciting and stressful for students and parents. Read our Q&A below for ways to keep the transition moving smoothly for your students, as presented at the January School Board meeting.

Question: How are elementary students prepared for middle school?
Answer: For fifth graders leaving their elementary school and moving to ROMS, there are several activities to get them into their future school. Throughout the winter and spring, the elementary schools plan special visits to tour ROMS. Then, in early March, ROMS comes to them with scheduling visits and “instrument petting zoos” and instrument fittings. The process continues through the summer and fall with special Bulldawg events.

Q: The high school has a lot going on. How will my student become familiar with the building and different activities?
A: Eighth-graders begin in January with an introduction to scheduling for ninth grade, and continue through the winter and spring to get to know the high school. Tours in March and April give ROMS students the chance to speak with ROHS students and get to know the building. Orientation activities continue through the summer.

In addition, there are several ongoing connections that middle school students have to the high school. The IB Middle Years Programme continues in ninth grade. There are also many clubs and groups that crossover between ROMS and ROHS, like sports teams, the Model UN and Dawg Walk program. All-City concerts also introduce middle schoolers to the high school throughout the year.

Q: What can I do to help transition my student?
A: Whether your student is entering the middle school or high school, there are multiple ways to stay involved and help your student. Reminding them of other times they’ve had to make a transition can help, plus encouraging involvement in the various activities offered can give them something to look forward to when they make the move.
PTA Founder’s Day Dinner Honors Local Change-Makers

On February 5, the Royal Oak PTA Council hosted its 97th Annual PTA Founder’s Day dinner at the Red Run Country Club.

“Highly successful school districts like Royal Oak are only able to support the needs of all students due to the continued and tireless help from the active PTAs in our schools,” Superintendent Mary Beth Fitzpatrick, said.

The event was an opportunity for the organization to honor members who have made a difference throughout the year.

“The importance of parent involvement in all aspects of a child’s life cannot be overstated,” Candi Drouillard, President of the Royal Oak PTA Council, said. “Our organizations cherishes the annual opportunity to acknowledge and appreciate those parents, and community members, who chose to be involved.

Another focus of the event was the 100th anniversary of the Michigan PTA chapter.

According to the Royal Oak PTA Council, in common with those of National PTA and Michigan PTA, the aims of the organization include promoting the welfare of children and youth; raising the standards of home life; securing adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth; bringing home and school into closer relation so that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the education of children and youth; and developing between educators and the general public united efforts to secure the highest advantages in education for all children and youth.

ROHS Team Earns Awards at University of Michigan Model UN

Royal Oak High School’s Model United Nations spent four days earlier this semester at a debate conference at The University of Michigan, and they came back with several awards.

Senior Henry Smith, representing Saudi Arabia in Disarmament, senior Heather Rose representing Palestine in the Arab League, and sophomore Sarah Skaleski representing Uruguay in the Environment Programme all earned Honorable Mentions.

More than a quarter of the team earned awards at the event and the team scored high marks in five of the seven committees in which it debated. The conference hosted nearly 800 students from 37 private and public schools across the Midwest.

The team moves on to new conferences through the coming months, including Oakland University in March and Windsor in April. This summer, the team will travel across the globe to Tanzania in Africa to research sustainable tourism and post-colonial development.
