Students Work Incredibly Hard and Perform Well

Two busloads of Royal Oak High school students (68 students and 10 chaperones) spent the mid-winter recess, February 17-23, in Plaquemines Parish, Louisiana. They were there with the National Relief Network to work on homes damaged by Hurricane Isaac this past summer. Two dozen additional students from Royal Oak High School – members of the award winning ROHS A Cappella Choir – spent the mid-winter recess in Munich, Germany, and Prague, Czech Republic, where they performed in some of the most historic concert halls of Europe. These students, who raised funds to pay their own way for these trips, represented not only our high school, but all of us as Royal Oak residents.

A recent study by the Mackinaw Center for Public Policy (The Michigan Public High School Context and Performance Report – CAP-Card, 2012) looked a high school performance by calculating a “CAP Score” for each school. This is one of several efforts that independent groups have undertaken to provide “apple to apple” comparisons of high school performance. The statewide average CAP score is 100. Below is a listing of the score for Royal Oak High School and the scores from the schools closest to us:

According to this measure, Troy Athens and Birmingham Groves are the schools with whom our performance is most similar; they would be our “peers.” This is good, but I’ll be honest: My goal for Royal Oak High school is not simply to be “peers” with Troy Athens and Birmingham Groves, but to outperform them. Students who work incredibly hard and perform well – on the stage, around the world, in the classroom, and in service to each other and the greater community: my greatest satisfaction comes in seeing these attributes in our students.

Royal Oak High School has an incredible history. It also has an incredible future. I hope that you will plan to attend the ROHS Community Celebration and Open House that is planned for April 25 (see page 3 for more details). This is an opportunity for school families with children of all ages, alumni, and community members to learn more about the past and future of Royal Oak High School.

With pride in our students,

Shawn Lewis-Lakin, Superintendent of Schools

PS. As I write this article, scores from fall 2012 MEAP testing have just been released. At the district level our scores improved in 14 to 18 tested areas compared to 2011! Updated information regarding district MEAP scores will be posted on www.royaloakschools.com

Royal Oak Middle School ACT Explore Math Average Composite Scores Top National Average

School Improvement Efforts Produce Results

Royal Oak Middle School (ROMS) students are making great progress in mathematics learning according to ACT Explore test results.

The Explore Math composite score for 8th Grade ROMS students rose one full point this year, from an average score of 15.6 to 16.6. This is the largest year to year increase in any subject area in the school's recent history. Nationally, the average math composite score for 8th grade students is 15.5.

Not only did the overall scores at ROMS increase, but also the gap between subgroups in the building was reduced by over 50%. This is important as it indicates that all students are being positively impacted by improvement efforts.

“We are pleased with these results,” said Superintendent of Schools Shawn Lewis-Lakin. “They provide evidence that efforts at both the district and building level are having a positive impact.”

The Explore Math Test, given to 8th grade students each fall, measures mathematical reasoning. Questions on the test cover four areas—knowledge and skills, direct application, understanding concepts, and integrating your understanding of concepts—in pre-algebra, elementary algebra, geometry, and statistics and probability.

Student performance in mathematics has been a focus for the district. As a result, after an analysis of data and research, the district adopted Connected Math as the instructional resource for grades 6-8. “Connected Math creates math classrooms that foster student engagement in mathematics through problem solving and inquiry,” explained Sarah Olson, district Director of Instructional Services.

At the building level, the advisory period that has been a part of the ROMS schedule for many years was redesigned this year to provide targeted learning for all students. Advisory is now called LEAP, an acronym for “Learning, Enrichment, Advancement, and Principles.” According to David Simpson, Assistant Principal at Royal Oak Middle School, “This initiative involves the entire staff working to support all students to achieve the highest possible levels of learning in mathematics.”

“This is a great example of the success which is possible when we use student achievement data to drive improvement at the district, building, and classroom levels,” noted Lewis-Lakin.

Community Participation in Ford Test Drive Event Raises $6,580 for Royal Oak High School

Royal Oak Ford and the Ford Motor Company recently presented a check for $6,580 to the Royal Oak High School (ROHS) athletic department. The money was raised by students, parents, faculty and members of the community who gathered at Royal Oak High School (ROHS) on Saturday, October 6, for the Royal Oak Ford and Ford Motor Company “Drive One 4 UR School” test drive fundraising event.

Ford Hall, the commercial truck manager and community liaison for Royal Oak Ford, presented the check. The donation will be used to renovate the ROHS weight room, which serves all the school’s athletic teams, and for athletic transportation.

“We greatly appreciate the generosity of Royal Oak Ford, the Ford Motor Company and the Royal Oak community coming together to support our schools,” said Royal Oak Schools Superintendent Shawn Lewis-Lakin.

In the “Drive One 4 UR School” program, participants have an opportunity to check out Ford cars and trucks. Ford makes a $20 donation to the school for every test driver, and an additional $10 each for each person who test drives the new Ford Focus.

The Drive One 4 UR School program has donated over $22,000 to Royal Oak High School since the program began in May 2011. The funds have been used for athletic and co-curricular activities, as well as the school’s video program.

Oakland Elementary School is getting 38 iPads, three iPads for every classroom, thanks to the combined efforts of the PTA, Royal Oak School District, and Oakland staff. This major endeavor represents a $15,000+ investment in technology for the building.

In addition to the iPads, the wireless access system at Oakland Elementary School is being expanded, and each classroom is being equipped with ceiling mounted projectors and Apple TV receivers. Headphones and protective covers are also being purchased for each iPad.

“Through this initiative, Oakland Elementary will have iPads in every classroom all day, every day” said Principal Gary van Staveren. “Our teachers felt it important to be able to use the technology for student learning according to a schedule that works best for their students and classrooms.”

“iPads are a great learning tool,” said van Staveren. “They do not replace instruction, but rather supplement instruction.” The primary goal will be to focus the supplementation instruction on math and literacy then expand throughout the curriculum. iPads will be incorporated into literacy and math workshop stations in each classroom.

This past August, Oakland Elementary School representatives attended a presentation on “How iPads Can Influence Classroom Teaching.” More recently, teacher leaders were sent to Beacon Tree Elementary in Utica to observe their Kindergarten iPad program. Other staff members attended an iPads in the Classroom conference in Livonia. The teachers who attended the outside training then facilitated a professional development session for the staff at Oakland Elementary. Principal van Staveren cited research that suggests iPads are able to increase student engagement and raise student motivation. In addition, iPads can match the needs of individual students with individualized learning activities.

“We are excited about the iPad program at Oakland Elementary School,” said Shawn Lewis-Lakin, Superintendent of Schools in Royal Oak. “Over the last year, the district has made a significant investment in the Oakland Elementary School building. Working together, the PTA, the staff, and the students are now making a significant investment in moving instruction and instructional technology forward. There is a lot of positive energy and excitement in the building.” Noting that planning is underway to introduce iPads into the instruction at all elementary schools in Royal Oak, Lewis-Lakin stated, “Oakland Elementary is leading the way for the district.”
